Diary of events

Thursday 18th May 2006

Most of the French members arrived by Eurostar at Waterloo station.

The morning visit was to the recently completed Unicorn Theatre, by Keith Williams Architects, in Tooley Street. Lunch at the Boat and Flogger was followed by a short walk to Altes and Morrison's offices in Southwark Street.

The AGM and supper at the Anglo Kensington Rowing Club, recently rebuilt to designs by Pringle Richards Serratt, overlooked the River Thames and the footlit Hammersmith Bridge.

Christel Margottin-Dequier presented her bursary project on conservation work in France and Great Britain.

Friday 19th May 2006

The newly completed visitor centre at the Savill Garden, by Glenn Howells, with Burd Hepwood was an inspiring prelude to the garden itself.

Lunch at Cumberland Lodge was followed by Donald Heals's fascinating talk on the restoration work at Windsor Castle after the fire, and then a visit to the Castle itself.

A lively barbecue supper at Charles and Sarah Dorn's house completed a long day.

Saturday 20th May 2006

The under construction St. Pancras station extension and the exhibition at the adjoining German Gymnasium provided the morning's visits.

Lunch in St. Cradock Place in the converted coach house (Squire and Partners, architects).

The afternoon visit to the restoration works at Fulham Palace had members climbing the scaffolding to walk around the roof.

The Gala Dinner was held in the Orangery at Kew Gardens, preceded by visits to the new Alpina House, with a talk by Tim Macfarlane, and Kew Palace.

The guests of honour were Jean-Paul Martin, cultural adviser at the French Embassy, and his wife Morquie.

Sunday 21st May 2006

A walk along the Thames, past the boat houses on the south side, led to the London Wetland Centre at Barnes, the last visit.

Comité de liaison / Joint committee, Paris
